

THE WORLD THAT WAS

PART I - JOHN S. TORELL & CHARLES M. THORELL

NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

Everyone sees the world as they want to see it. This is evident from the twisted worldview adopted by most politicians, actors, and famous people. Their outlook was not acquired on their own. They are the sum total of the input from their parents, education and life experiences. Quite often the philosophy which they promote directly contradicts godly standards.

I want to share a correct understanding of the world in which we live. A seemingly radical construct – at least when compared to what the secular world promotes – that is based upon the Bible, life experience, and direct revelations from the Holy Spirit. This recently happened when I awoke on July 17, 2021 and the Holy Spirit instructed me to record what He has shown me during my years as a Christian along with additional concepts He showed me that Saturday morning.

King Solomon was an Israelite king who was given supernatural wisdom to understand the mysteries of creation. Wisdom by itself does not make a person intelligent. When such an amazing gift is bestowed upon a man, it must also be paired with godly submission and a love for your Creator. Apart from these two qualities, wisdom will corrupt and destroy a person. This is what happened to an angel named Lucifer in eternity past.

“By the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.” (Ezekiel 28:16-17)

Lucifer was spiritually destroyed because he did not properly use the gift of wisdom. King Solomon could easily be counted among the brightest and most astute human beings to ever live. The biblical accounts show his legendary wisdom was unparalleled.

“And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself long life; neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies; but hast asked for thyself understanding to discern judgment;

Behold, I have done according to thy words: lo, I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart; so that there was none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall any arise like unto thee." (1 Kings 3:11-12)

God was specifically referring to men in verse twelve, but the concept is also applicable to angels as well. King Solomon reigned from 970-931 BC, but biblical disclosures about Lucifer would not arrive until some 180 years later through the prophet Isaiah and 327 years later with the prophet Ezekiel.

The godly wisdom eventually corrupted Solomon because of his rebellion. He became an idolater, worshiping at the altars of Ashtoreth, Chemosh and Molech, where adults and children were placed on the superheated arms of these iron demon gods and slowly burnt to death.

Solomon welcomed many heathen women into his life, among them was the daughter of Pharaoh, along with Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Zidonians, and Hittites. All these women slowly turned Solomon away from the God of his fathers until he developed a reprobate mind and he died as an enemy of God.

"Of the nations concerning which the LORD said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall not go in to them, neither shall they come in unto you: for surely they will turn away your heart after their gods: Solomon clave unto these in love.

And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines: and his wives turned away his heart.

For it came to pass, when Solomon was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods: and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, as was the heart of David his father.

For Solomon went after Ashtoreth the goddess of the Zidonians, and after Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

And Solomon did evil in the sight of the LORD, and went not fully after the LORD, as did David his father.

Then did Solomon build an high place for Chemosh, the abomination of Moab, in the hill that is before Jerusalem, and for Molech, the abomination of the children of Ammon.

And likewise did he for all his strange wives, which burnt incense and sacrificed unto their gods.

And the LORD was angry with Solomon, because his heart was turned from the LORD God of Israel, which had appeared unto him twice." (1 Kings 11:1-9)

A WORLDVIEW REVELATION

Solomon was born some 3,170 years after the first man came into being. He received the following revelation before the prophets Isaiah and Ezekiel were even born.

"The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun. Is there any thing whereof it may be said, See, this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us.” (Ecclesiastes 1:9-10)

The Lord told Solomon that nothing on the earth was new because it all existed beforehand. This opens the door to breathtaking reasoning, namely, the planet on which we exist was not actually created for Adam and Eve! Earth was established for other creatures which the Bible calls angels. I know that’s a lot to take in so let’s examine what has taken place on this planet.

ETERNITY

The Godhead consists of God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit. These spirit beings have always existed.

“For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word (Jesus), and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.” (1 John 5:7)

The Godhead resides in a city in the third heaven outside the universe. Only certain high-ranking angels have access to the divine throne room and Lucifer was counted among them.

“Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.

Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.” (Ezekiel 28:14-15)*

These three beings are eternal, meaning they have no beginning or end. They exist in the spirit world which is an eternal realm with no boundaries. At some point in eternity past, the Godhead decided to start a physical creation – our universe! Prior to this event, they had created a number of angels so vast that mankind cannot count them.

“But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels...” (Hebrews 12:22)

The concept of an angel was not introduced to Adam and Eve. The serpent referred to the angels as “gods” in his conversation with Eve.¹ Jesus used the title “cherubim” after the fall of mankind, and in the pre-flood world, they were referred to as “sons of God.”²

“Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said, Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge? Gird up now thy loins like a man; for I will demand of thee, and answer thou me. Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast understanding. Who hath laid the measures thereof, if thou knowest? or who hath stretched the line upon it? Whereupon are the foundations thereof fastened? or who laid the corner stone thereof; When the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy?” (Job 38:1-7)

THE PROPHET ISAIAH

There is no biblical information provided as to when the creation of the angels took place or when the physical universe came into being. The Bible indicates that it happened sometime before our universe was created. Isaiah, who active as a prophet in Jerusalem from 740-700 BC, was given the first glimpse of this pre-Adamic world.

“How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations! For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High.

Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit. They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms; That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof; that opened not the house of his prisoners?

All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house. But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust through with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcass trodden under feet.

Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evildoers shall never be renowned. Prepare slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they do not rise, nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities.” (Isaiah 14:12-21)

An analysis of these verses reveals the following things:

1. Lucifer had access to the city of God outside the physical universe.
2. There were nations/kingdoms on the earth consisting of different people.
3. Lucifer wanted to dethrone God.
4. Lucifer waged war on the earth and turned it into a wilderness.
5. There were cities on the earth.
6. Lucifer imprisoned people and refused to set them free.
7. The people who lived on earth were judged by God and killed.

THE PROPHET EZEKIEL

Ezekiel was active 107 years later as a prophet from 593-571 BC. He lived among the captives in Babylon when God released further information about Lucifer and the pre-Adamic world.

“The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a God, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God:

Behold, thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee: With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures: By thy great wisdom and by thy traffick hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches:

Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God; Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.

They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas. Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that slayeth thee. Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty. Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire. Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee. By* the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire. Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

Thou hast defiled thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee. All they that know thee among the people shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt thou be any more.” (Ezekiel 28:1-19)

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

Ethbaal III was the king of Tyre at this time. He ruled from 591-573 BC, and it is obvious that God is initially speaking to Ethbaal, but then the Lord transitions to the spiritual prince behind the man. When the title “prince of Persia” or “prince of Grecia” is used, it always refers to the fallen angel in charge of that particular nation.

“Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Persia.”

Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come.” (Daniel 10:12-13, 20)

The revelation given to Ezekiel concerned the prince of Tyre and the king of Tyre. Contrary to what some may believe, the prince is Lucifer and Ethbaal III is the human king. Lucifer controlled Ethbaal and this is why the biblical text makes a distinction between the two.

Lucifer is referred to as sitting in the sea.³ This was true since the city of Tyre was situated on the coast and a portion of the city was an island in the Mediterranean Sea. Lucifer falsely claimed to be a god and possessed the physical body of Ethbaal in the same way that he possessed the serpent in the Garden of Eden,⁴ Judas Iscariot prior to the crucifixion of Jesus,⁵ and will do the same for the future Antichrist.⁶ This is possible because Lucifer’s beautiful angelic body was destroyed and he now only exists as a spirit of ashes.⁷ Lucifer used his wisdom to enrich Ethbaal, and even though Ethbaal claimed to be a god, he would be eventually killed by enemies who would see that he was only a man.

God described Lucifer’s beauty and revealed more about the fallen angel and what he did during the time prior to the creation of Adam. The Garden of Eden was Lucifer’s capitol when he served as regent of the earth.

³ Ezekiel 28:2

⁴ Genesis 3:1-5, 13-15

⁵ Luke 22:3; John 13:27

⁶ Revelation 13:2

⁷ Ezekiel 28:18

Lucifer was created sinless. As a cherub, he was among the most powerful angels. He served in God’s throne room just like the Levites would later serve in the temple at Jerusalem.⁸ Cherubs officiated for a season and then returned to the planet they ruled. They would return to the city of God when the appointed time came to serve in the throne room again.

Lucifer was involved in some kind of commerce and it turned him into a violent being. This anointed cherub boasted about his beauty and used the Godly wisdom to corrupt himself. He was subsequently cast to the earth before the earthly kings as a defeated foe.

There were earthly temples/sanctuaries which Lucifer profaned. He replaced the worship of God with the veneration of himself. As a result, his beautiful body was destroyed by fire and now he looks like ashes.⁹ This new appearance caused astonishment among the pre-Adamic civilization. The once powerful cherub that governed the earth and brought it to ruin had been brought to justice.

SUMMARY OF THE TWO PROPHETS

As I previously stated, there was life on earth prior to the creation of Adam and Eve. Lucifer served as the regent of the planet. There were kings and nations, large cities, commerce, and war between the nations. Lucifer ran a penal system in which prisoners were never set free. These revelations certainly raise more questions than answers.

When Jesus appeared on the earth some 4,000 years after the creation of Adam, He provided three revelations to the apostles.

1. Jesus saw Satan fall from heaven like lightning.

⁸ Luke 1:5-9

⁹ Ezekiel 28:18

*“And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven.”
(Luke 10:18)*

2. The Son of God described Lucifer as the prince of the world.

“Hereafter I will not talk much with you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.” (John 14:30)

3. Jesus revealed that Lucifer and the other fallen angels had already been sentenced to the Lake of Fire.

“Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.” (Matthew 25:41)

It is important to note that when Jesus' church began on the Day of Pentecost, the three aforementioned verses represented mankind's accumulated knowledge about Lucifer. The apostles recognized there had been some kind of pre-Adamic civilization ruled by Lucifer, but that was all they knew.

EARTH TIME

When I attended public school as a boy, the first thing I was taught was how to read a clock and tell time. As I grew older and entered high school, I learned that the earth rotates on an axis and one 24-hour rotation is called a day. The planet's process of tilting back and forth on its axis creates the seasons. One rotation around the sun is called a year. It is easy to see that our concept of time is governed by the earth's association with the sun, however, this way of calculating time is not used by God or the angels.

GREENWICH TIME

The Prime Meridian at Greenwich, England is the reference for every time zone of the world. Time was originally calculated by the sun at high noon at the Royal Observatory in Greenwich. Atomic clocks are now in use and the different time zones of the world are still determined from Greenwich; it is the primary standard for international time distribution services to control set times for the different nations. Global navigation satellite systems, cell phones, television, and radio broadcasting are all tied to Greenwich Time.

The Gregorian calendar is zeroed to the year Jesus was born. Other calendars have a different way of reckoning. Here is the current Gregorian calendar year (2021) compared to the Assyrian calendar (6771), Buddhist calendar (2565), Byzantine calendar (7529), Chinese calendar (4719), and the Hebrew calendar (5781).

The descendants of the men responsible for the crucifixion of Jesus don't want anything to do with the Son of God, let alone recognize Jesus as their Messiah a couple thousand years later. However, since most nations base their calendar upon the birth of Jesus, they simply refer to our year zero as BCE (Before Common Era) in lieu of BC (Before Christ). According to the Jewish religious leaders, the earth was created 3,761 years BCE. To further complicate matters, the Western world uses the Gregorian solar cycle calendar with its New Year of January 1st whereas the Hebrew New Year is based on lunar/solar cycles. The Jewish New Year is tied to the holiday, Rosh Hashanah (Feast of Trumpets), and in 2021, it occurred on September 6, 2021.

DANIEL'S END TIME PROPHECY

The concept of time is ingrained from an early age. I remember learning in Sunday school that the creation account took seven days. My teachers stated it was seven earth days. Most Christians have been taught the same time concept, but I would like to introduce a different outlook based upon the timetable given to the prophet Daniel (623-538 BC).

“And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever.

But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

Then I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.

And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half; and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.” (Daniel 12:1-7)

The angel conveyed to Daniel a heavenly time reference when he stated it would be “a time, times and an half.” It is obvious the angel was operating within a cosmic time system that is foreign to humanity. Daniel did not understand and was told the interpretation would be provided later.

“And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things? And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.” (Daniel 12:8-9)

The angel finished his message by telling Daniel, that it would be 1,290 days (earth days) from the time the daily sacrifice is taken away. This refers to the sacrifice that took place in the temple at Jerusalem on a daily basis.

1. The daily sacrifice was first halted when the Babylonians destroyed the temple in 587 B.C. before Daniel even received the vision.
2. The second such event took place in 168 B.C. when the Seleucid King Antiochus IV invaded Jerusalem and erected a statue of Zeus on the temple compound and sacrificed a pig on the altar.
3. The third time it took place was in 70 A.D. when the temple was destroyed by the Roman army under the leadership of Titus. There has been no temple in Jerusalem from that day onward.

In the future there will be a new temple built in Jerusalem under the auspices of the Antichrist.¹⁰

¹⁰ 2 Thessalonians 2:1-4

Then the angel continues his message and tells Daniel about another time period of 1,335 days.

“Many shall be purified, and made white, and tried; but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand. And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days.” (Daniel 12:10-13)

The prophetic message by the angel was beyond Daniel’s understanding and there is no further information provided in the entire New Testament about the prophecy. There will never be any comprehension unless the Holy Spirit provides the interpretation.

COSMIC TIME

The apostle Peter received an amazing revelation from the Holy Spirit some 30 years after the crucifixion of Jesus.

“But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.” (2 Peter 3:8)

This single verse is the Rosetta Stone that allows us to begin calculating cosmic time in heaven.¹¹

¹¹ A stone slab inscribed with three versions of a decree issued in Memphis, Egypt in 196 BC during the Ptolemaic dynasty. The top and middle texts are in Ancient Egyptian using hieroglyphic and Demotic scripts, while the bottom is in Ancient Greek. It provided the key to understanding the

We can begin to establish a comparison and make a little sense of the timetable used by the angel who spoke to Daniel. Dividing 1,000 years by 24 hours allows us to contrast heavenly time with earthly time.

- ❖ One hour with God is 41.67 years for man.
- ❖ One minute with God is 8 months and 8 days for man.
- ❖ One second with God is 3 days and 22 hours for man.

Human beings are finite beings with a beginning and an end. Meaning we are born and then die at a later time. It is difficult to grasp the concept that the Godhead has always existed since everything in our physical universe has a beginning. The Godhead are ageless and they literally have “all the time in the world.” It is impossible to set a reference point that points to the beginning of the Godhead’s existence since they do not have a starting point like humans and have always existed. Time as we know it is a linear construct and the concept of time in heaven does not correspond with the passage of time on earth, hence Daniel’s confusion with the words of the angel.

God has revealed that our universe is limited. It has a beginning and an end. That means that the universe exists within a certain time period. This passage of time can be divided into sections, allowing the Godhead to perform whatever they want within a certain time frame or after a certain amount of time has lapsed. This would be a cosmic time measurement. Let’s re-examine the angel’s words with this in mind.

“And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven,

hieroglyphics inscribed on different structures of Egyptian antiquity.

and swear by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half; and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.” (Daniel 12:7)

THE SECOND UNIVERSE

The second universe refers to the new heaven and new earth.

“And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.” (Revelations 21:1)

The second universe is peculiar in that it has a beginning, but it does not have an end and carries on to eternity future.

“For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first: Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore comfort one another with these words.” (1 Thessalonians 4:16-18)

If the Godhead wants certain things to happen during this eternal time at certain intervals, they can use the beginning of this universe as a reference point and state something special will take place after a certain amount of time and last for a season. This gives the Godhead the ability to add events and conclude events throughout eternity according to their will.

God is eternal and the city of God resides in the third heaven. This is where the Godhead has always existed. At the end of the Book of Revelation, the city of God will be moved to the second universe and the Godhead will relocate to the new Earth.¹²

*“And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven...”
(Revelation 21:2a)*

While it's true that everything in our universe has a beginning, this is not true of God. He is not linear like humanity. He is an infinite being with no beginning or end. Therefore, it's not possible to set a birthday like we do with our calendars because there is no reference point that can be set to zero.

*“For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy...”
(Isaiah 57:15a)*

God has created the finite physical universe in which we exist. It has a starting point and the universe will also come to an end in the future.

“But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

¹² Appendix A: Beyond the Cosmos

Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.” (2 Peter 3:10-13)

Our physical universe is linear, meaning we can set an origin point for creation and call it zero. But since we don't know how to calculate cosmic time, nor do we know how long ago the universe came into being, we are in the dark when it comes to the age of this physical universe. The Bible tells us that God created the heaven and the earth.

“In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.” (Genesis 1:1)

But the next verse is strange because it informs us that this newly created earth was without form and void. How could that be? Did God create the earth in a diminished state? Additionally, why was the earth's surface covered with water? What was the time frame for these events?

“And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.” (Genesis 1:2)

THE WAR IN HEAVEN

John was the only original apostle still alive some 60 years after the ascension of Jesus to heaven. He was imprisoned on the island of Patmos and one day John was taken to heaven and given an audience with Jesus, who provided him with insight as to what was going to happen in the future.

Jesus also supplied John with a missing piece of information from the pre-Adamic time. There was a rebellion among the angels that led to a massive war which raged throughout the spirit world and carried over to the physical universe. This conflict went on for an unknown period of time as Lucifer and his fallen angels vainly tried to dethrone God from the third heaven.

“And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels, And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night. And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death.

Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.” (Revelation 12:7-12)

HOW WAS THIS WAR FOUGHT?

How was this space war fought? The logical conclusion is that the angels possessed some kind of craft that were capable of traveling throughout the universe. Since there was a war, it is not unlikely that these craft could have been outfitted with weapons.

God has interacted with humanity since the time of Adam and Eve and there are several instances in which angels came to earth in some kind of craft.

The first recorded event of some kind of spaceship is when the Son of God descended upon Mount Sinai to speak with Moses and the Israelites.¹³ Have you heard the sound a NASA rocket makes when it launches? There is fire and smoke and the noise is deafening. The Hebrews experienced something similar when Jesus descended upon Mount Sinai, but with the ground also shaking violently. Moses lived during a time when electricity was unknown to mankind and he tried to describe the situation to the best of his ability. Moses was invited up the mountain with Aaron, Nadab, Abihu and the 70 elders. They saw Jesus sitting on some kind of a portable throne in the craft from which they were served food and drinks.

The prophet Elijah was taken to heaven in some kind of craft. Elisha saw the event and described the aircraft as a chariot and horses of fire.¹⁴ Using contemporary science fiction and related vernacular, Elijah was beamed into the craft. Mankind did not begin to master airplanes until the 19th century and helicopters in the 20th century.

The prophet Ezekiel saw some kind of spacecraft which he described as wheels within wheels, but he was transported inside it. One of the craft contained a portable throne for Jesus as the Son of God traveled from heaven to earth.¹⁵

When you examine biblical references in this article in conjunction with the unidentified flying objects (UFO) sightings that have occurred during the last 100 years on earth, and the captured UFO at Roswell, New Mexico in 1947, I am confident they are related.¹⁶

Let me explain it in the following way. Holy angels were initially assigned to take control over the newly created universe and establish civilizations throughout the different solar systems and their corresponding planets. To make this possible, God released knowledge of advanced technology so that angels could build spaceships capable of traveling faster than the speed of light and move throughout the universe in a timely manner. There were no fallen angels as of yet in the timeline.

Cities powered by electricity were built on various planets. The different people living on the worlds had access to a universal internet which connected devices such as televisions, radios, smartphones and computers. All methods of transportation such as aircraft, naval ships, and automobiles were powered by an unknown means. I want you to understand that the things which exist on earth today are merely replicas of what existed in eternity past at the genesis of the universe. The technical development in the spirit world is complete, whereas we only have fragments in our physical universe.

It was not until the mid-1980s with the discovery of DNA and its double helix that mankind understood the code used to create a baby in the womb. While humanity has decoded DNA, we still do not possess the knowledge or technology to write and manufacture DNA strands and use it to make a human body.

Mankind does not have the ability to travel from the spirit world to the physical world like the angels. The navy has come to the conclusion that UFOs originate somewhere underneath the ocean waters. The craft that emerge from the water have more speed and maneuverability than our fighter aircraft. The UFO that was recovered in Roswell,

New Mexico in 1947 was propelled by electromagnetic energy, something mankind has not been able to duplicate. The humanoids found at the crash site were piloting and operating the UFO. I will explore this in more detail further on, but I believe that what we are seeing is the remnant of Lucifer's space fleet before he was defeated in his bid to dethrone God.¹⁷

Angels and the different people were created to worship God and sanctuaries were built on all the different planets. The created universe was intertwined with the spirit world and intended to be a place of love and joy. This joyful time could have gone on for millions of years, but we really don't know since there is not biblical timeline for this era.

THE WORLD THAT WAS

When the Jesus created Adam and Eve, He purposely wanted them ignorant about heaven, angels, the war in heaven, etc. The Godhead began to reveal more about themselves over time, eventually leading to the incarnation of Jesus when the Son of God took human form and lived among humanity as the God-man.

Satan and his minions are limited by God in their ability to reveal themselves to mankind, but it is obvious there was a breach which took place during the time before Noah's flood. Let's examine some instances where angels intervened in the affairs of mankind and used a craft or some kind of device to interact with humanity.

After Jesus surveyed the tower of Babel, He supernaturally changed the universal language and assigned different languages to people groups. Angels grouped the people according to their new language and scattered them all over the earth - ostensibly through some kind of craft.¹⁸ Ancient humans painted and chiseled pictures of flying objects with beings in them and wearing some kind of helmets. This is common on every continent.

¹⁷ Revelation 12:7-9

¹⁸ Genesis 11:1-9

Jesus and two angels visited Abraham. The Son of God informed Abraham that He was going to inspect the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. Later, the angels removed Lot and his family from Sodom as the cities and the surrounding plain were firebombed from above. This was done with some kind of angelic craft that unleashed powerful heat weapons involving fire and brimstone.¹⁹

I already mentioned when Jesus descended upon Mount Sinai to meet with Moses. There was fire and smoke and the deafening noise shook the ground. The Hebrews were warned not to set foot on the mountain. Moses described the noise like that of a screaming trumpet. It was so loud that the people trembled and the mountain shook as it was covered with smoke and bright flashes emanated from within the swirling screen.²⁰ Later, Moses and others were invited up the mountain to a portable throne with Jesus sitting upon it. Angels prepared a meal for Moses, Aaron, his two sons and the 70 elders.²¹

The angel of the Lord came to speak with Gideon. At the end of the conversation, Gideon wanted to prepare an offering of a goat, broth and a cake. The angel instructed Gideon to put it upon a rock and pour the broth on the offering. The angel touched his staff to the food and fire sprang up from the rock and incinerated the offering. Gideon was unaware that the angel of the Lord had used a laser to set fire to the meat and the bread.²²

When the time came for the prophet Elijah to leave earth, an angelic flying craft was dispatched that caught him up from the ground. Elisha described it as a chariot of fire.²³

The prophet Ezekiel saw a flying object appear and land close to where he was standing. Ezekiel lived around 500 BC and had no concept of electricity. He tried to describe a flying object with a portable throne using rudimentary concepts and a basic vocabulary. There is no doubt in my mind that Ezekiel was describing a spaceship that landed in front of him.²⁴

TECHNOLOGY PROGRESS

When I started to preach about the coming Antichrist in 1971, I realized a higher technology was needed in order for a World Federation to control commerce and banking for the Antichrist system. Humanity utilized wind, hydro and animal power in conjunction with sails, water wheels, and wagons from the time of Abraham, but technology was slow in moving forward.

The Chinese discovered a formula for developing black powder around 1,000 AD. This opened the door for mankind to begin using its destructive capacity. This led to the creation of crude unguided explosive rockets and firearms eventually became the standard weapon of infantry for every army in the world.

The printing press would revolutionize the world and Johannes Gutenberg is credited with building the first one around 1440. This was a divinely inspired invention that allowed the Bible to be mass produced.

There was no further leap in technology until around 1600 AD when scientists began to experiment with static electricity and discovered how to manufacture direct current. I believe that God blinded mankind from discovering and harnessing electrical energy even though its effects had been seen for ages in thunderstorms and lightning. The advent of electricity was exciting but no one knew how to utilize it.

²³ 2 Kings 2:10-13

²⁴ Ezekiel 1:4-28

The steam engine was discovered around 1769 and it did not take long for innovators to design locomotives and ships powered by steam. Mankind wanted some kind of engine that could be used in various applications and an English inventor patented the gas turbine in 1791. In 1794, another Englishman patented a combustion engine. In 1823, an American patented the first internal combustion engine that was manufactured industrially.

The first direct-current electric motor was built in 1832 by yet another Englishman. It was powered by a battery, but was not commercially viable since electric power plants and transmission lines did not exist. The first practical use of electricity was the discovery of the telegraph by an American in 1837. This type of communication was valuable since the military could quickly convey orders from the capitol to remote locations during a conflict.

British inventors demonstrated that electric light was possible with the arc lamp in 1835, some 44 years before Thomas Edison patented his famous incandescent light bulb. The telephone came to market in 1876. This was followed by the phonograph in 1877 and the radio in 1897. The first practical radar system was built by a German in the late 1880s. The first practical automobile came into existence in 1885. By the mid-1890s movie cameras were being produced which gave rise to the film industry. The first successful powered flight took place in 1903 when two Americans attached a combustion engine to their glider. The black and white television arrived on the scene in America in 1922, followed by color TV in 1954.

Scientists from the United States, Great Britain and Germany set about building an atomic bomb in the 1930s. There is no doubt in my mind that this was inspired by Luciferian forces to develop a super weapon. The Nazis were close to achieving success, but they were sabotaged by the Allies during the Second World War. American scientists under the direction of the Robert Oppenheimer built and exploded the first atomic bomb in July of 1945 on a testing ground in New Mexico. A second and third bomb were dropped on Japan a month later, ostensibly to end World War 2.

THE COMPUTER AGE

Mathematics and technology have been used by the Godhead throughout eternity. Knowledge was imparted to the angels for the creation of the universe. Humanity began to develop non-electric mechanical devices capable of mathematical calculations in 1833, but it was not until the discovery of vacuum tubes in 1908 that it became feasible to produce computers. Utilizing vacuum tubes and capacitors, two Americans were responsible for the first automatic electronic digital computer in 1942.

The age of computing arrived when British engineers designed and built an enormous computer named Colossus in 1943. It contained 1,500 vacuum tubes and was used to break the Enigma encryption machine used by the Nazis during World War 2. In the United States, a computer called ENIAC was built at the University of Pennsylvania. The design started in 1943 and was completed in 1945. This gigantic computer weighed 30 tons and used 200 kilowatts of electricity to power its 18,000 vacuum tubes, 1,500 relays, and thousands of resistors, capacitors and inductors.

A SATANIC INTERVENTION

Governments and businesses worldwide relied on International Business Machines (IBM) tabulating machines from 1890 to 1970. It was a mechanical system, working with punch cards, sorting and reading units. These machines were used by the communists in the Soviet Union to keep tabs on the population and was also used successfully by Adolf Hitler in Nazi Germany. IBM facilitated the gulag labor camps in the Soviet Union and the concentration camps in Nazi Germany. Yet the tabulating system had limitations; data had to be collected and transferred to punch cards that was used to build a memory bank in the system. It could not store any pictures and there was no such thing as quick search. The machines were slow and it was not possible to transfer the data from one location to another electronically.

Since the days of Noah's flood, Lucifer and his minions have been forbidden by God to introduce a higher level of electronic technology. However, with the advent of the Antichrist drawing closer, the Godhead allowed a technology transfer to take place to facilitate Lucifer's World Federation. This is what Jesus said in 90 AD about the future.

“And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed. And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name. Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.”

(Revelation 13:15-18)

Lucifer needed to take the technology of humanity to a higher level in order to usher in the Antichrist system of control mentioned in the Book of Revelation.

THE TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER

The year 1947 saw a lot of UFO sightings throughout the United States and around the world. The American government ordered its different agencies to debunk the sightings coming from airline pilots, air force crews, navy personnel, farmers, ranchers, people traveling on rural roads, and even people in urban areas. Some 70 years later, researchers have used FOIA requests to release government documents once they are declassified.²⁵ These archives reveal the government was in a panic mode because they feared an imminent invasion from outer space. They knew that they did not have sufficient military power to win such a conflict. International governments debunked talk about alien spacecraft on a daily basis and the public was told that people were simply seeing meteors, weather balloons, or natural phenomena that played with the imagination.

THE CITY OF ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO

The city of Roswell, New Mexico was a small town that served as the home to Roswell Army Air Field, later changed to Walker Air Force Base in 1948. It was located close to one of the most secretive areas of military research and development. Los Alamos National Laboratory was a project of the Department of Energy during World War II for the design of nuclear weapons as part of the Manhattan Project. White Sands Missile Range was a testing area operated by the United States Army and it was in these locations that the first atomic bomb was built and tested.

UFOs were constantly flying around this area of New Mexico. They were detected by radar and propeller driven fighter planes were scrambled to attack, but the UFOs flew away with incredible speed that could not be matched. Beginning on July 1, 1947 a number of UFOs had been flying over the different military installations in New Mexico and the radar installations in New Mexico reported these overflights. The Pentagon ordered personnel from the Army Counter Intelligence Corps (CIC) to be flown to Roswell to determine if UFOs had inserted any foreign agents on the ground.

On the evening of July 4th, different radar installations saw a UFO flying at speeds over 1,000 miles per hour. Radar operators saw the UFO lose altitude and then some kind of explosion took place. Military personnel were ordered to secure the crash area before any civilians found the wreckage. But hundreds of people had seen the flash in the sky. The military reached the site first, secured it, and subsequently ordered all civilians, which included the sheriff and a fire truck crew, to leave the area.

According to military records released many years later, the craft was the shape of a flying wing (similar to the B-2 stealth bomber) with two tail fins on top of the craft. It was almost intact, except a rip on the side. It carried a crew of five humanoids; three were dead as a result of the crash, one was shot dead when it tried to flee, and the fifth was captured. The craft was loaded on a flatbed truck and taken to the Roswell Army Air Field and later flown to Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio.

CIC officers spent the next week talking to the people in Roswell and threatening them with arrest and incarceration if they talked to reporters. It was an ugly scene as a government threatened its citizens with death. The mainstream media played along with the military, promoting the event as a crashed weather balloon. It is not my goal to discuss in detail what took place in Roswell that night or what happened to the captured craft and the surviving crew

DOING RESEARCH BEFORE THE INTERNET

I started to preach on the coming Antichrist and the beast system around 1971. My research was limited and it was not until I started broadcasting on radio in 1975 that people started to send newspaper clippings from the different towns dealing with events tied to the coming world dictator. Someone introduced me to a weekly newspaper called “The Spotlight” and this gave me access to military and political events in the United States and around the world. Late in the 1970s, I was given a copy of the “Phoenix Letter,” which was published monthly by renowned researcher Antony C. Sutton. Some years later I was introduced to a monthly financial newsletter called “Criminal Politics” by Lawrence Patterson. I received these publications and a number of others.

When we started to publish The Dove magazine in 1980, it did not take long until its reach extended to almost every state in America and readers sent newspaper clippings from all over the United States. I realized that I was inadvertently building a personal intelligence network. Eight years later I came across the story of Roswell for the first time.

MAJESTIC TWELVE

Antony Sutton received a copy of a document codenamed “Majestic Twelve” in 1988. In a June cover letter to his subscribers, Sutton stated that someone had given him a copy of a briefing paper dated September 24, 1947, which had been presented to President Harry S. Truman by Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal and scientific advisor Dr. Vannevar Bush. Truman was informed that an alien flying disc had been recovered by the Air Force on July 4, 1947 in New Mexico and that some of the alien crew had been captured alive. The military stated that the technology of the aliens was far superior to that of the United States and that there was no defense available should the aliens decide to launch an attack.

I had little understanding of aliens and UFOs in June of 1988; as a result, I sat on this information until the fall when I decided to publish the document in The Dove magazine. I wrote an introduction and told the readers that I wasn’t sure if it was genuine or a forgery, but to pray over it and have the Holy Spirit confirm or reject its veracity. The confirmation came nine years later when Colonel Philip J. Corso of the U.S. Army released a confession of the government cover-up and lies that had taken place during the previous 50 years.²⁷ The same year another book was released by Michael Hesemann and Philip Mantle that dealt with the same subject.²⁸ These two publications firmly established that the Majestic 12 document was real and that the American people had been repeatedly lied to by elected leaders and the military establishment.

PHILIP CORSO

Philip Corso died the same year his book was published. I don’t believe in coincidences, and given the sensitivity of the information, I am certain he was killed for revealing what he knew. He was a military officer during World War 2 and worked with Army intelligence under General Douglas MacArthur’s staff during the Korean War. He was a member of President Eisenhower’s National Security Council as a Lieutenant Colonel for four years and served as the head of Foreign Technology in Army Research and Development at the Pentagon in the early 1960s. This meant he was in charge of the Roswell files, the cache of UFO parts, and all information an Army retrieval team had pulled from the wreckage of the flying disk that crashed in the New Mexico desert in 1947. He retired from the army in 1963 with nineteen medals and ribbons, having served on staff as a National Security specialist to Senators James Eastland and Strom Thurmond, and subsequently worked as a consultant and contracts administrator in the private sector.

CORSO'S REVELATIONS

Colonel Corso stated there were five extraterrestrials found at the Roswell UFO crash site. They stood 4.5 feet tall with grayish-brown skin, had four-fingered hands and featured oversized hairless heads. Two of them were still alive; one tried to run away and was shot by nervous soldiers while the other was still alive but dying when it arrived to Roswell Army Air Field.

Corso was Post Duty Officer at Fort Riley, Kansas in 1947, the night a shipment of Roswell artifacts arrived from Fort Bliss. He examined the shipment, which included one of the dead extraterrestrials preserved in a thick light-blue liquid. The shipment was destined for Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio.

He spoke about serving in President Eisenhower's National Security Council, and seeing the memos about the Roswell incident and divulged how he spearheaded the Army's secret reverse-engineering project that seeded extraterrestrial technology within American corporations such as IBM, Hughes Aircraft, Bell Labs, and Dow Corning without their knowledge.

Corso described the devices found aboard the Roswell craft and how they became the precursors for today's integrated circuit chips, fiber optics, lasers, night-vision equipment, super-tenacity fibers, psychotronic devices that can translate human thoughts into signals to control machinery, aircraft technology, and particle-beam devices.

He also discussed the role that extraterrestrial technology played in shaping geopolitical policy and events. How it helped the United States surpass the Russians in the space race, spurred elaborate Army initiatives such as SDI (Star Wars Projects), Project Horizon (to place a military base on the Moon), HAARP; and ultimately brought about the end of the Cold War.

Philip Corso stated that captured UFOs are kept at Norton AFB and Edwards AFB in Southern California and Nellis AFB, which controls three large tracts of land in Nevada. The most well-known of these tracts is known as Area 51, while the official name is Nellis Air Force Range.

A UFO Working Group was set up by President Truman on September of 1947 – also known as Majestic 12 – and has functioned ever since. Two crude antigravity prototypes were constructed in the 1950s. They were powered by nuclear fission generators which were inefficient and leaked radiation. He said the Star Wars program was deployed primarily to prepare for war against the extraterrestrials in case of an invasion.

Corso suffered a massive heart attack in June of 1998, but made a remarkable recovery. He was at home on July 16th and feeling fine when he apparently suffered a second heart attack and died enroute to the hospital.

UNTIMELY DEATH

Philip Corso published his book in July of 1997 and died a year later. Many such people who work in intelligence services, sensitive military positions, or political offices are assassinated by their respective governments. If death cannot be generated through a medical reason like heart attack, stroke or cancer, they will often resort to shooting, drowning or poisoning. I believe that Corso was given some kind of chemical agent that induced a heart attack. His son, Philip Corso Jr., gave the following statement the day he died:

“He really wanted to stay. The last three weeks since the first heart attack have been very productive. I knew he had more to say, and he told me a great deal about the Roswell UFO incident. Unpublished manuscripts and other UFO related information left by Col. Corso will be protected and made available in due course to researchers and the public. This is what my father lived for.”²⁹

KEEPING THE TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER SECRET

Philip Corso used the term “seeding” to describe the secret effort to reverse engineer the craft and its parts that would allow American engineers and scientists to file for patents and make it look like they had invented this new technology. The government used its vast power of disinformation from the different military branches and the CIA. Scientists and engineers who worked on the different captured items were allowed to take credit for the “discoveries” and file a patent on it. Sometimes a group of engineers were given the credit for having “invented” the new technology.

People born after 1950 were fed the lies by the government, the mainstream media, and even the textbooks used in public schools. The lie became truth for each generation that was taught this false narrative in high school, colleges and universities. Anyone questioning the lie was labeled a conspiracy theorist or lunatic.

The various men and women who worked on these secret military projects were sworn to secrecy and the lie could not be disputed. The onset of the internet in 1990 and the release of Col. Corso’s book shattered the glass ceiling as the truth became widespread. People began connecting the dots with the UFO sightings, cattle mutilation, and human abductions by aliens.

Many people have done research on the subjects of UFOs and aliens and one of the better books on UFOs and suppression is written by Renato Vesco & David Hatcher Childress.³⁰ I recently purchased a book “Strange Company” by Keith Chester, featuring a collection of UFO sightings by U.S. air crews during World War II, 1939-1945. This compilation of reports comes from air crews debriefed after missions.³¹

The general population in the United States are either blissfully ignorant or turning a blind eye to the subject of UFOs, particularly to the 1947 technology transfer. Americans have not understood and don’t want to believe it is possible that their government will blatantly lie to their faces. The choice is that people must believe or be relegated to a conspiracy theory wacko and ostracized.

Did you know that public school teachers must teach the Darwinian version of creation or risk losing their jobs? This blatant lie from the Devil is considered scientific fact and every Christian teacher from kindergarten to college must present this theory as a fact if they want to keep their job. This is not really discussed in the United States, it is just another suppressed truth that cannot be discussed.

Satan does not want people to know about UFOs and the technology transfer since he is trying to usher in the Antichrist quietly through the backdoor while the church sleeps!

TRANSISTOR

The Roswell UFO crash took place on July 4, 1947. There was a device on the craft that seemed to function like a vacuum tube. Corso's assignment was to reverse engineer the device and it was sent to Bell Laboratories in Murray Hill, New Jersey. The project was given to three top scientists, William Shockley, John Bardeen and Walter Brattain. Since the government had classified the crashed UFO as "top secret," these men were told to take the credit for inventing the transistor. The "prototype transistor" was demonstrated on December 23, 1947 and marked the end of the vacuum tube industry.

IMAGE INTENSIFIERS

The crew members of the crashed UFO were wearing some kind of eyewear that made it possible to see even when it was dark. This device became known as "nighttime image intensifier." It became clear to Corso that if the eyewear could be reverse engineered, it would revolutionize fighting on the battlefield. Since the government repeatedly denied having a crashed UFO in their possession, it became necessary to introduce this new technology through a corporation so it could not be traced back to the UFO at Roswell.

It was decided that a secret army laboratory at Fort Belvoir would be the safest place to start the process of reverse engineering. According to Corso, International Telephone & Telegraph (ITT Inc.) was the first major manufacturer contacted in 1958. It is clear that there is deliberate disinformation currently on the internet because Radio Corporation of America (RCA) is taking credit for "inventing" a night vision system in the 1940s and 1950s. The project was assigned to Martin Marietta Electronics – now Lockheed Martin – in 1963. The current major manufacturer of night vision goggles is L3 Harris Technology, Inc., based in Florida.

Night goggles have changed the battlefield in all wars since the Vietnam war (1963-1975). This technology was introduced in such secrecy that if a person tries to determine where it came from on the internet, there is no mention of the crashed Roswell UFO in 1947.

INTEGRATED CIRCUIT BOARDS

When military technicians began to systematically dismantle the crashed UFO, they found thin wafer-like boards with some kind of etched electronic circuits on them. A sample was sent to Texas Instruments and the assignment fell to Jack Kilby to unravel the mystery.³² On September 12, 1958, he presented the Board of Directors with his understanding of the "wafer" and how it could be manufactured. In time this gave birth to the microchip used in computers, smartphones and other electronic gadgets.

LASERS

Colonel Corso compiled a shopping list in 1961 of artifacts that need to be reverse engineered.³³ Among the items found on the craft was a short, stubby looking flashlight with a self-contained power supply that was unlike any battery on earth. When the scientists at Wright-Patterson AFB in Ohio examined the gadget, they could not see light emitting from it like with a flashlight; however, when they pointed it at a wall, they could see a red dot illuminated on the wall. When they placed an object between the gadget and the red spot, the beam coming out of the device was interrupted. But to the astonishment of the scientists, it did not take long until the object started to smoke and caught fire. As the scientists kept playing with the gadget, they came to the conclusion that the aliens on the craft used it as a blow torch. The beam became fully visible when shot through smoke.

³² Texas Instruments Incorporated (TI) is a technology company headquartered in Dallas, Texas, that designs and manufactures semiconductors and various integrated circuits, which it sells to electronics designers and manufacturers globally.

³³ Philip J. Corso with William J. Birnes, THE DAY AFTER ROSWELL, Pocket Books, 1997, p. 115

When Corso wrote on this subject in 1997, he realized that the device had been used in cattle mutilations in the 1960s when UFOs landed on ranches in the Midwest and alien crew members tranquilized cows and then cut out hearts, livers and other parts. Ranchers and police were at that time baffled that the parts had been removed with the surgical precision of a scalpel.

The device was eventually turned over to Hughes Research Laboratories, and on May 16, 1960, Theodore H. Maiman operated the first functioning laser at Hughes Research Laboratories in Malibu, California.

KEVLAR

The extraterrestrials on the UFO were clothed in a garment that baffled Corso. The material could not be cut with a razor. When the material was twisted and stretched, the cloth always returned to its original form. Samples were sent to Monsanto, Dow Corning and DuPont's textile fibers laboratory in Buffalo, New York. A researcher named Stephanie Kwolek working at the Dupont laboratory was able to reverse engineer the cloth as a synthesized fiber in 1965 and it took another six years to get the stiff fiber into production and has been used for bulletproof vests.

FIBER OPTICS

When the recovery crew arrived to the crashed UFO in the early morning hours of July 4, 1947, they were amazed as they had entered the craft and found no electric wiring common to any airplane. They realized that the craft had electronic gears, but there was no visible connection as far as they could determine. They did not understand the function of the printed circuit wafers found on the UFO. They were totally mystified by the single glass filaments that ran through the different panels. One of the control panels had broken loose from the wall and 12

filaments were hanging from it. Here is how Corso described it:

"The wire harness seemed to have come loose from a control panel and was separated into twelve frayed filaments that looked something like quartz. When, back at the 509th's hangar, officers from the retrieval team applied light to one end of the filament, the other end emitted a specific color. Different filament emitted different colors. The fibers – in reality glass crystal tubes – led to a type of junction box where the fibers separated and went to different parts of the control panel that seemed to acknowledge electrically the different colors pulsating through the tube. Since the engineers evaluating the material at Roswell knew that each color of light had its own specific wavelength, they guessed that the frequency of the light activated a specific component of the space craft's control panel.

But beyond that, the engineers and scientists were baffled. They couldn't even determine the space craft's power source, let alone what generated the power for the light tubes. And the most amazing thing of all was that the filaments not only were flexible, but still emitted light even when they were bent back and forth like a paper clip. How could light be made to bend? The engineers wondered.

This was one of the physical mysteries of the Roswell craft that stayed hidden through the 1950s until one of the Signal Corps liaisons, who routinely briefed General Trudeau on the kinds of developments the Signal Corps was looking for, told us about experiments in optical fibers going on at Bell Labs.”

In a briefing meeting with Professor Hans Kohler in 1962, Corso asked him a number of questions. He explained that the filament was made very fine and that there were two microscopic layers in the fiber. Because of this the light could not escape from the tubing. Understanding this was one thing, but how it was manufactured was another puzzle. Kohler explained that the light could carry any signal, light, sound and even digital information. There is no resistance in the light beam, allowing it to carry much more information, which is a problem when sending electrical current through a copper cable.

When asked by Corso, Kohler recommended Bell Laboratories to reverse engineer the filaments, who had started to develop their own fiber optics. This made it easier to conceal alien technology that had been seeded into technology firms.

THE BIG LIE

To make sure that fiber optics could not be traced back to the crashed UFO, the information given to Bell Laboratories was given to Charles Kao Kuen (1933-2018). He worked in the 1960s for Standard Telecommunication Laboratories in Harlow, England which was owned by International Telephone & Telegraph (ITT Inc.)

Kuen is known as the father of fiber optic communications for his “discovery” in the 1960s of certain physical properties of glass which laid the groundwork for high-speed data communication in the information age. Before Kao's pioneering work, glass fibers were widely believed to be unsuitable as a conductor of information because of the excessively high signal loss from light scattering. Kao realized that by carefully purifying the glass, bundles of thin fibers could be manufactured capable of carrying huge amounts of information over long distances with minimal signal attenuation. Such fibers would eventually replace the copper wires for telecommunication.

In 2009 he shared the Nobel Prize in Physics with Willard S. Boyle from Canada and George E. Smith from the United States, who were “co-inventors” of the charge-coupled device which is used to convert optical information to an electrical signal.

In 1973, Bell Laboratories developed a modified chemical vapor deposition process that heats chemical vapors and oxygen to form ultra-transparent glass that can be mass-produced into low-loss optical fiber. This process still remains the standard for fiber-optic cable manufacturing. This was “developed” by Corning Glass Works researchers Robert Maurer, Donald Keck and Peter Schultz.

Unless a person has access to Corso's book, there is no way to trace the development of fiber optics to the crashed UFO. This was done to ensure that the masses would never understand how the coming Antichrist is directly tied to the gigantic technology transfer that took place in 1947.

H.A.R.P (HIGH ALTITUDE RESEARCH PROJECT)

Project HARP originated as the brainchild of Gerald Bull, a ballistic engineer specializing in high-velocity guns. In the mid-1950s, Bull was working on Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) and Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) research at Canadian Armaments and Research Development Establishment (CARDE) when he formulated the idea to launch satellites into orbit using an enormous cannon.

During the late 1950s, Bull conducted preliminary launch experiments using guns as small as 76mm. These experiments soon caught the attention of the U.S. Army's Ballistic Research Laboratory and the U.S. Army's Chief of Army Research and Development, Lieutenant-General Arthur Trudeau.

A 16-inch HARP gun operated by the U.S. Army's Ballistic Research Laboratory (now called the U.S. Army Research Laboratory) at Yuma Proving Ground currently holds the record for the highest altitude (180 km) achieved by a gun-fired projectile.³⁴

There were a number of other technologies from the UFOs that became integrated with the American military. Here are some examples:

1. Stealth technology on aircraft and ships
2. Depleted uranium tank and artillery shells
3. Particle beam weapons

THE COVER UP

President Truman was shocked when he was informed about the crashed UFO. Many people had seen them flying around for years, but now a craft was located at the Wright Patterson AFB in Ohio. The bodies of the crew had been preserved in formaldehyde. The remaining alive humanoid was held in a cell at the base.

If this information was made public in 1947, it would have created panic that extraterrestrials could travel with impunity and nothing could be done to stop them. Even worse, no one knew the intentions of the extraterrestrials. To put it into perspective, the radio depiction of The War of the Worlds in 1938 created hysteria across the United States. The scripted bulletins about aliens from Mars invading New Jersey terrified the listeners.³⁵ To make matters worse, it would have created a theological problem since the general teaching at universities and public schools promoted Charles Darwin's theory of evolution. Public knowledge of extraterrestrials would corroborate the following biblical claims:

1. Satan and his fallen angels waged war in space prior to the creation of Adam and Eve.
2. What the Book of Revelation states about the Antichrist and world federation.

The men of the world government used their power to suppress the hidden technology transfer and compelled government officials and military officers to lie about the matter.³⁶ The people at Roswell were threatened and physically intimidated into not speaking about the topic for many years. The airmen and soldiers involved in retrieving the UFO were threatened with death if they ever spoke about the incident.

The village idiot is a person known for their ignorance and stupidity, so if you have a secret, telling the village idiot will ensure it remains that way because no one takes the village idiot seriously. This was the mentality employed by the government to maintain the confidentiality of their precious secret when they contacted key figures in Hollywood to begin producing movies and television shows about UFOs and aliens. The public was inoculated into believing the ³⁶ The world government I am referring to is a Jewish organization that dates back to the time of King Solomon. It has to do with the concept of the Messiah found in the Bible. The Bible teaches that the Messiah is the second person of the Godhead known as Jesus. The Son of God was incarnated and came to die on the cross to pay for the sins of the human race. He was resurrected and returned to heaven. He will return in the future to set up a millennium kingdom. King Solomon, who was an adherent of the Kabbalah, told the Jews that the Kabbalistic messiah was going to be a man anointed by God. He would use force to set up a global federation; a Jewish kingdom ruled by Jews. In order to make that happen, Jews since the time of Solomon orchestrated a secret government that will someday rule the world. At the time of Christ, Jewish merchants and bankers had penetrated every nation. By controlling trade and banking, they enjoyed a de facto world government. Trade and banking are mostly carried out by Jewish people and they are the ones that make up the world government by using their power to start and end wars, work toward the abandonment of nations which will eventually be merged into a global federation or world government.

Hollywood saga because everyone knows you can't believe everything on the radio and television.

The city of Roswell eventually produced posters and figures of extraterrestrials to attract tourists. I believe that Philip Corso felt terrible about the lies he was forced to speak and decided to come clean about the truth toward the end of his life.

According to his son, he had more to reveal, but he conveniently died before he could say more.

Another person came forward and released the Majestic 12 document that contributed to the story. As I sifted through Corso's book and compared it with what I have read on the internet, the story of the technology transfer is simple and elaborate and most people are ignorant of the past.

1989 TIANANMEN SQUARE MASSACRE

As the communist grip on Eastern Europe started to crumble in 1989, young people in China established a democracy movement and Tienanmen Square in Beijing became a focal point for the protest against the communist regime on April 15, 1989. It was a student led protest from its inception of some 100,000 students from the different universities in Beijing. In time Chinese union workers joined the students, and at the height of the uprising, some 300,000 people occupied the gigantic square and set up tents and bedding. A replica of the Statue of Liberty was even erected on the square.

The unrest spread to a number of other Chinese cities where other students rallied and were joined by union workers. Every American television network set up a temporary studio on the square. I remember watching the events unfold on the news as a lengthy segment was played each night. Would the people of China overthrow the communists?

The communist government realized it could not trust the army units stationed in and around Beijing. The soldiers had family members in the city and they certainly would not attack their protesting relatives. Martial law was declared on May 20 and thirty army divisions (250,000 soldiers) were mobilized and ordered to proceed to Beijing.

An order was relayed to the different army units on June 4 and they advanced on the city and started to clear out the protestors. Hundreds were killed and many more wounded. The next day a column of tanks and tens of thousands of soldiers descended upon Tienanmen Square but the demonstrators blocked their advance. The government troops fired upon the protestors. It is estimated that thousands were killed and an equal number wounded. The uprising was effectively over by June 7 because of the brutal tactics of the Chinese government against their own people.

The entire event was covered by Western television crews and I watched events unfold every day. When it was over, the media was expelled from China and a purge began which saw tens of thousands of students and workers arrested and sent to labor camps, never to be seen again.

The Chinese government ordered all records and television footage of their brutality destroyed. Newspapers were told there had never been an uprising on Tienanmen Square. There is no mention of it in Chinese history books and school children born after 1989 are mostly ignorant of this event. Adults were intimidated to forget everything or be sent to a labor camp. It was like a spirit of amnesia swept over China as the communist controlled media totally removed the Tienanmen Square Massacre from their files.

To the people born after 1989, the massacre is innocuously referred to as the '89 Democracy Movement or the Tienanmen Square Incident. There never was an uprising. When they hear about it from other nations, they are told this is simply propaganda whose aim is to destroy the communist party. My reason for sharing this story is to show the power of propaganda, the ability of government to brainwash its citizens, and influence media and the public education system. The sad thing is that most people born around the world after 1989 have never heard about the massacre at Tienanmen Square.

The population in China is 1.454 billion as of 2023. Nazi Germany that lasted from 1933-1945 had a population of around 80 million. Joseph Goebbels was the propaganda minister and he invented one lie after another during the twelve-year duration. Truth did not exist in Germany through his efforts. The following quote is attributed to Goebbels:

“If you tell a lie big enough and keep repeating it, people will eventually come to believe it. The lie can be maintained only for such time as the State can shield the people from the political, economic and/or military consequences of the lie. It thus becomes vitally important for the State to use all of its powers to repress dissent, for the truth is the mortal enemy of the lie, and thus by extension, the truth is the greatest enemy of the State.”³⁷

WHY MENTION THE TIENANMEN SQUARE?

The future Antichrist cannot appear on the scene until the world’s technology can support a global federation which is capable of exercising totalitarian control over people and finances. If the common people were informed that an alien technology transfer had taken place in 1947, it would create political unrest. Furthermore, the mainstream media would explode within Christian circles and pastors would be forced to explain to their congregation that the Book of Revelation is true and that we are approaching the time of the Antichrist. This in turn would create backlash from the masses. Instead of coming in peacefully as the Bible predicts, Lucifer and the Kabbalists would have to employ brutal force to crush governments and subdue the world’s population.³⁸ The sad thing is that 99% of pastors and church members are ignorant of the 1947 technology transfer and this is precisely the way that Satan wants it.

³⁷ www.jewishvirtuallibrary.org/joseph-goebbels-on-the-quot-big-lie-quot

By pointing out that some 1.5 billion Chinese have been misled about events that transpired 34 years ago, I am hoping that this truth will open your mind to fact that the UFO crash at Roswell took place 76 years ago and that our government has been seeding “foreign technology” into corporations to elevate our knowledge. The fact that this coincides with the rise of the Antichrist is alarming and should be noticed by the Christian community because the Man of Sin and his beast system precedes the second return of Jesus.

MY PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS

My parents had a telephone installed in our home during the late 1940s. Picking up the handset automatically connected me to an operator in the call center of our city. I told her the telephone number and she made the connection at her switchboard.

In 1952 I remember being fascinated with my parents’ vacuum tube radio and its different bandwidths. I purchased copper wiring and ran it from the second story of our house to a tree in the garden to make a large antenna. As a thirteen-year-old, I remember excitedly listening to American radio in Sweden. I also picked up stations from England, Luxemburg and the U.S. Armed Forces Radio in Germany on short wave and on medium bandwidths. In 1958 we obtained our first transistor radio which also featured a turntable to play vinyl records.

I started to attend engineering college in 1959 and graduated in 1963. Modern calculators did not exist and a slide ruler was used to perform mathematical calculations or simply done by hand.

When I arrived to Salt Lake City in 1963 and became a draftsman, I was trained to use a mechanical calculator to solve my triangulations. About two years later the Utah highway department purchased a computer system that almost took up an entire floor in the building we occupied. I was told to record my mathematical requests on a form and a computer operator would enter the data into the vacuum tube computer. When the calculations were completed, they were printed on continuous feed paper and given to me.

I had telephone service installed at my apartment the same year. The telephone was black with a rotary interface that did not require an operator to make calls.

I purchased a 19" black and white television set in 1964. There were three local stations in Salt Lake City which could be picked up with the built-in rabbit ears antenna.

In 1966 I purchased a reel-to-reel tape recorder. Phone calls to Europe went through cables laid out on the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean and a three-minute phone call to Sweden cost $100. When using a three-inch diameter reel at slow speed, it was possible to record 30 minutes on each side of the tape. It was substantially cheaper to deliver a letter or tape to Sweden within four days via airmail.

The reel-to-reel recorder was a great blessing because it allowed me to make a recording for all the people I had offended and hurt growing up. I shared how I had come back to Christ and asked different people for forgiveness. I created a list of names and addresses and sent the tape to the first person on the list, asking them to forward it to the next person on the list, and so on. Scores of people were moved, some were saved, and still others rededicated their lives to Christ.

Several times a year my wife and I would record personal messages to our relatives, particularly our parents, and thus we could communicate via voice. The tapes we exchanged at Christmas were precious during the holidays. At that time, it was impossible to fathom that in the future I would sit in front of my computer screen and conduct an international video call at virtually zero cost.

During my last year in Salt Lake City in 1969, I purchased a small hand-held calculator from Texas Instruments, freeing me from having to perform calculations on paper.

When I starting working for a surveying company in 1972, the owner purchased a small device that could execute the necessary calculations to make maps. I believe the machine had an early microchip.

The barcode was revolutionary technology introduced to supermarkets in 1973. Up to this point, all items in the store had price tags applied to them. Supermarkets employed people whose sole job was to tag everything with these stickers. This meant that checkout clerks had to manually enter every item into the register.

The new scanner at the checkout was equipped with a laser beam that translated the binary code of every UPC barcode to the correct price. When an item was scanned at the register, the UPC code was identified from a database and the price was automatically entered into the register.

The bar code was divided into two parts; the first line was a six, the middle was a six, and the last was a six. Those of us who were pastors and evangelists started to talk about the mark of the beast because of 666 connotations associated with the barcode. Many prophecy books were written about the subject and I wrote articles as well.

This ministry purchased high speed cassette duplicator in 1974 as the world entered the era of the compact cassette player. This machine would serve us well for the next thirty years until the compact disc format rendered the cassette tape obsolete.

Our ministry was introduced to the Xerox copy machine in 1978. This was an innovative device that used electrostatic charges on a light-sensitive photoreceptor to attract and fuse toner particles onto paper using heat and pressure. It made copies onto regular paper stock, something that most people take for granted today. Simply put, it was an incredible device that allowed you to make a copy of an existing document.

I purchased a bulky 29" color television in the late 1970s. Unlike its predecessor, this set featured nicer speakers and came in a beautiful wood trim.

From 1976 to 2010 our ministry operated a print shop consisting of offset presses, plate maker, collator and a paper cutter. All these machines were mechanical.

In the mid-1980s we printed a magazine called The Dove. It was mailed out to thousands of people. A businessman purchased a small computer system that allowed two operators to enter data at the same time; he donated it to the ministry when he outgrew that system. It was exciting to move from a mailing list maintained by typewriters to the digital age.

My rotary phone was replaced with a push-button telephone in the mid-1980s.

Around 1988, my parents purchased a cellular phone for me. This technology allowed me to make and receive calls over a radio frequency link within a service area. It was bulky, heavy, and the battery did not last very long, hence the need for it to be plugged into a cigarette lighter outlet.

I acquired my first computer around 1991 for $3,000. I also purchased a printer to go with it and retired my typewriter. This was the year I also connected to the internet through a dial-up connection.

In 1996 I purchased my first cellular flip phone. It was much smaller and lighter and could easily be carried in a pocket.

On June 12, 2009 all television stations stopped transmitting analog signals. There was a transition period prior to this when the public could purchase digital flat screens ready for the changeover or use a digital converter with their older television.

I have lived through a time period of breathtaking technological development. Most people born after 1980 automatically adapted to a life of technology and never gave a second of thought as to where it all came from. Mankind leapt from the vacuum tube to the digital age in less than 30 years.

Police departments have traditionally used fingerprints to identify criminals; that has now been augmented with DNA and facial recognition. Dogs and cats are now tagged with a microchip for identification; this has carried over to a small segment of humanity that utilizes an embedded microchip for identification at the workplace.

It used to be that cash, money orders, and checks were the sole way to pay for things. Modern credit cards have embedded chips, ostensibly because of security, and these digital purchases are tracked by the stores and payment processors. This has led to digital payments, allowing the transfer of a sum from one account to another using a smartphone or computer.

Most people today pay their bills online. I no longer receive a physical check from Social Security; rather, it is deposited electronically to my checking account. People in Sweden do not use cash for transactions anymore as banks and stores refuse to accept physical currency. It is a steadily increasing digital world.

Credit card companies wield enormous political power. If a Christian ministry or a conservative group does not toe the line with the woke values being championed today, their credit is cut off and monetary sources dry up. PayPal and Stripe have repeatedly shown they are not afraid to shut down ministries with whom they disagree. Facebook, Twitter, Google, Amazon, Apple, etc. have become thought police and routinely use their power to arbitrarily shut down any account they don't like. The victim has no right to appeal since it's more or less a kangaroo court.³⁹

The technology required by the Antichrist system is in place. It is entirely possible for the False Prophet to issue his decree that no one can sell or buy unless they have received the mark of security or whatever they are going to call it. This would certainly establish a black market of sorts, but it won't be sustainable in the long term and will eventually get stamped out. Lucifer has slipped in his technology and the Church of Jesus is more or less sleeping. It is for this reason that the Mark of the Beast will come naturally to most people – even Christians. It will be billed as a system to deter fraud.
